

THE SIGRID RAUSING TRUST

CALL FOR PROPOSALS FOR THE KOSOVO WOMEN'S FUND

Issued: 6 September 2021

Application Deadline: 4 October 2021

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Kosovo Women's Network (KWN) is pleased to announce the Kosovo Women's Fund's (KWF's) sixteenth grant round, which, for the first time, will proudly pilot providing "core" support to KWN member organisations. We invite organizations committed to furthering women's rights and gender equality to submit applications for core support to their organisations.

What is core support?¹

Core support (sometimes referred to as core budget, general budget, institutional or organizational support or unrestricted or untied funding) means flexible funding, given to an organisation to enable the organisation to realize its overall strategic plan and aims. It differs from funding provided through a specific project, which must be used only for specific, set objectives and activities (often referred to as 'tied funding' because it is 'tied' to a certain activity and cannot be used for other purposes). Several definitions of the term 'core support' exist. Basically, it means supporting the overall strategy, operations and administrative costs of an organisation. Rather than making an organisation follow a donor's procedures, core support usually allows the organisation to use its own preferred procedures for auditing, procurement, and reporting. Rather than focusing on costs, core support focuses on the results achieved. Additionally, the organisation (and not the donor) decides on these results.

Thus, core support contributes to any costs that the organization has, towards realizing its strategic aims. This may include but not necessarily be limited to:

- Overhead, institutional, administrative, or general organizational running costs, including staff;
- Implementing the organisation's strategic plan;
- Advocacy, as defined by the member organization;
- Development and capacity building of the organisation.

¹ This and the following sections draw from the Kvinna till Kvinna Guidelines for Core Support, adapted based on KWN's strategic aims, experience and prior evidence-based research on the topic, including interviews with KWN members.

Why core support?²

There are several reasons why KWN believes core support is important and seeks to provide it to its members:

- KWN trusts activists: We believe that women's rights activists are best placed to know their communities' needs and priorities and should therefore make decisions on how to spend funds.
- Focused on priorities: We believe core support rightfully provides member organisations with more control over how funds are channelled, ensuring that funds reach thematic areas and geographic regions often neglected by donors.
- Sustainability and capacity-building: Core support allows organisations to strengthen their internal organisational capacities and enhance their staff's capacities. This enables them to enact more long-term changes in their communities rather than ad hoc activities. It also enables them to build their organisational capacities and systems for the future, towards more sustainable work.
- Flexibility: Core support provides member organisations with the flexibility to pursue their own priorities and reduces the administrative workload associated with specific donor project requirements. Core support can be adapted to shifting priorities on the ground accordingly, such as changes in target groups, scope, health, and/or political circumstances.
- Mission-driven and fostering independence: Core support enables organisations to strategize independently and be less donor-driven.
- Deeper impact: Our research shows that core support allows women's rights civil society organisations to focus more on impact rather than mere survival. The time spent seeking to secure fragmented funds for basic operations, and reporting on the use of various piecemeal funds takes time away from their work towards social change.

Ineligible Costs

Given requirements by KWN's funders, the core support must not be used for purchase of property, land, or buildings. Purchase of capital-intensive equipment may only be made provided that this is not the main purpose of the action. How the equipment will be used and disposed of after the end of the core support agreement must be documented. The grant may not be used for: debts and related service charges; provision for losses; potential future liabilities; provision for reserves; travel costs for business or first-class plane tickets; credit to third parties; extra allowances, such as sitting allowances or equivalent to finance allowances for participating staff/invited speakers/participants of workshops; and participation in or support to political parties, groups, movements or campaigns.

GRANT AWARDS

The grants distributed in this grant round will receive support through KWN's initiative supported by the following funder:

- Sigrid Rausing Trust in the amount of at least €78,000;

The total amount expected to be distributed during this grant round is at least €78,000.

² This section draws from KWN's work on Where is the Money for Women's Rights and the 2020 ICAN report "Funding Women Peacebuilders: Dismantling Barriers to Peace".

SIZE AND DURATION OF GRANTS

KWN anticipates distributing at least eight (8) grants with maximum amounts of €10,000 each. Initiatives are expected to begin on or around 15 November 2021 and can last up to a maximum of seven (7) months from the date of contract signature, ending no later than 15 June 2022. KWN reserves the right to fund any or none of the applications submitted, as well as to discuss applications with applicants. Funding decisions will be made by KWF Grants Review Committee (GRC), elected by KWN members.

ELIGIBILITY

In order to apply, organizations must fulfil the following criteria:

1. Be a KWN member;
2. Be focused on women's empowerment and/or furthering gender equality;
3. Have an annual total organizational income of less than €20,000 per year;
4. Have no staff members currently part of KWN's Board, or part of the GRC.

The GRC will prioritize funding for organisations that:

- Have a clearly articulated strategy or strategic aims as an organisation, towards women's empowerment and/or furthering gender equality in Kosovo. If there is no written strategy, short description of strategic goals can be submitted with the application form;
- Seek to bring about sustainable changes in supporting, protecting, or promoting women's rights and gender equality at municipal and/or national levels (e.g., organisations aiming to contribute to tangible and visible results like new legislation, improved state services for women, municipal budgets more responsive to diverse women's needs, etc.
- Have strategic aims that will contribute to implementing the KWN Strategy for 2019-2022, established and agreed to by KWN members to address together the main gender inequalities that they identified in Kosovo;
- Explain well in their application how core support will enable them to achieve their organisation's strategic goals;
- Have a clear membership and/or constituency that the organisation serves;
- Report regularly to their constituents, membership, and/or board about progress towards realising their strategic aims, as applicable to the organisation's statute;

- Provide a complete, well-considered organisational budget for 2021 and 2022 based on currently known secured and requested financing; the application should explain clearly how the use of funds will support the overall budget of the organization [note: an organisational budget is a budget that includes all of the organisation's existing and anticipated expenses for all of its staff, operations, and planned activities for that period, towards achieving its strategic aims. Ideally, the budget should include columns that show the funding that the organisation is receiving, plans to receive, and still needs to secure to have the resources it needs for realising its aims for that year. KWN will support members in preparing this document, as requested];
- Demonstrate how they monitor and evaluate their work, and how they plan to do so in the future;
- Lack other funding opportunities from different donors; and
- Demonstrate experience successfully implementing a KWF grant previously.
